“THE SECRET BEHIND THE SUN’S RAYS”

FAR INFRARED RAYS & BIO CERAMIC

There is no doubt that life on earth depends on sources of water and oxygen. Animals that survive in the northern and southern hemispheres on earth demonstrate the importance of Far Infrared Rays / FIR heat for survival.

Bio ceramic is a product made from a combination of 70 types of mineral oxides such as Silica Oxide (SiO₂), Aluminum Oxide (Al₂O₃), and other minerals. These minerals are then heated to a temperature of 1,600°C, and then cooled down. Once this Bio ceramic has cooled down, the Bio ceramic material is capable of emitting Far Infrared Rays (FIR), or also known as the ray of life.

Historically, FIR was first discovered in the 1800s by a German scholar named Spectroscopes. Since then, many research conducted in Italy, America, Germany and Japan have revealed that FIR is beneficial in improving a person’s state of health. Since 1980, findings in America, Japan, Korea and China have collected data and evidence which indicate that FIR is very good for human health. Physically, FIR is a kind of light which cannot be seen, straight, reflective, absorbable, heat-producing and creates harmony in our lives.

FIR radiation is very popular in Japan and Korea; many discoveries have been made and applied in daily life. A more detailed research done on FIR by Japanese scholars shows that FIR Radiation is equivalent to 8 micron “Qi” (life force), the wavelength which can emit “Qi GONG”, a therapy which has been practiced by Chinese therapists for 3,000 years.

A disturbance in “Qi” can interfere with the body’s normal functions. Normal body temperature falls between 36 - 37°C. When we engage in sports, our bodies sweat and become hotter. In this process, toxins and poisons are expelled from the body. Facts have shown that materials such as clothing may help the body to warm up or sweat, but it does not emit FIR to absorb the toxins and poisons. This is because only materials which contain FIR have therapeutic (healing) effects if used in the long term, whereby our bodies benefit from an optimum level of health.

Why is 6 – 15 microns considered as bio genetic wavelengths?

Basically these wavelengths can be found in various life forms on earth. Man’s ability to absorb the length of electromagnetic wave also falls within this range. Wavelengths of between 8 – 12 microns are the wavelengths emitted by the human body. Biological studies indicate that the FIR wavelengths between 6 – 15 microns that are beneficial to the human body are bio genetic rays.

Dr. Toshiko Yamazaki, an MD from Japan, who is also the owner of a therapy clinic in Japan, is one of the scholars who studied Far Infrared Rays technology. In one of his books entitled “The Science of Far Infrared Wave Therapies” he discovered a healing therapy using FIR energy. In addition, there are many others studies which have been conducted on FIR as bio genetic ray. One of them was conducted by Prof. Tanji from Japan, who conducted a detailed study on white mice, which shows that the application of FIR helps cancer cells revert back to normal. This is why it is said that bio genetic ray is a miracle.

Researchers and specialists in the medical field have said that the human body can react quickly to absorb infrared rays. It is said that FIR can cause water molecules in the human body to vibrate, causing an absorbing reaction, resulting in the temperature beneath the surface of the skin to increase. This enlarges blood vessels and removes any barriers that may interfere with metabolism, activates networks to produce enzymes and finally, helps improve one's health.

FIR Product

The heat from infrared ray is not a conduction heat, but rather a radiation heat. Therefore, this ray can penetrate and seep into the body. This product is suitable for use any time and the heat that is produced is absorbing heat, not external heat. This device can benefit when used to aid in healing, improve circulation, reduce stiffness and muscle ache, nerves, activate the digestive organs and so on. (This article is taken from the book "Reverse Aging" by Mr. Sang Whang. It is scholar and inventor with many patent rights in the USA).

1. WHAT IS FIR

FIR is generally known as the ray of life. It is a ray from the sun's spectrum which cannot be seen, and is also known as an invisible ray. It is called the ray of life because it brings life to earth. To date, many development and reproduction on earth is possible because of the sun's FIR. For example, once insects lay their eggs, they depend on the sun to warm their eggs until they hatch. This activity is accomplished with FIR.

Sea turtle lay eggs and bury them in the sand. These eggs hatch under the sun's ray, particularly the heat generated by FIR. Without the sun's ray, these eggs will not hatch and the earth would be cold.

Some people are able to heal themselves from minor illnesses because their body's production of FIR is very strong. This is known as Qi Gong or the Healing Power of Qi Gong.

Physically, FIR exists as rays that cannot be seen by the naked eye and has a transverse wavelength that is part of the electromagnetic spectrum. FIR shines in a straight line and is distributed and reflected. If contrasted with a body that has the same resonating frequency, the body's liquid molecules will be ionized and FIR is absorbed by the body. The heat that we feel is due to the presence of FIR.

2. EFFECTIVE FOR HUMANS

Roughly 70% of our bodies contain water. Cells are the smallest unit in the body's organ structure. Cells form networks and networks create organs such as the liver, kidneys, heart and so on.

In the human body, the circulation system plays an important role, especially the micro circulation system. If there is a problem in the circulation system, various kinds of serious illnesses can emerge. FIR vibration, which shares the same resonating frequency as the human body can penetrate into the body and activate cells, improving and strengthening circulation. This system optimizes blood flow and activates vital energies within the body.

Many activities in the human body depend on the nutrients that it takes in. Nutrients provide energy for our body. At the same time, after nutrients have been absorbed, waste produced from metabolism must be expelled from the body. This process is called metabolism. The metabolic rate for every individual indicates his or her level of health. If you want to be healthy, your metabolism must be at a good rate. FIR can improve blood circulation and increase metabolism gradually. Once blood circulation has improved, the body's immunity will increase, the aging process slows down and vitality is increased.

3. BENEFITS OF FIR PRODUCTS

Bio ceramic is a basic material that can produce high levels of FIR. Under specific conditions and temperatures, and with the unique molecular structure of this material, FIR with wavelengths of 6 – 14 microns can be produced continuously. This wavelength is highly necessary for the body.

This type of FIR has no negative effects on the human body. The FIR health product offers positive health benefits including strengthening the body, taking care of health and helping to increase the body's immunity against diseases. FIR therapy is very different from chemotherapy. FIR is also often used as a form of physiotherapy in hospitals and clinics.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS BIO CERAMIC & FIR TECHNOLOGY

1. What is Bio Ceramic?

Bio Ceramic is a product made from a combination of various mineral oxides such as Silica Oxide (SiO_2), Aluminum Oxide (Al_2O_3) and others. The combination of these materials emits Far Infrared Rays (FIR)

2. How is Bio Ceramic produced?

Bio ceramic is made from 70 types of mineral oxides heated to a temperature of $1,600^\circ\text{C}$, then cooled down. Once cooled, the bio ceramic is able to emit FIR.

3. What is FIR?

FIR is part of the sun's spectrum of rays that cannot be seen with the naked eye. This ray, with a wavelength of 6 – 14 microns, is also known as bio genetic ray. Scholars have proved that biogenetic rays can improve the growth and health of cells, particularly in plants, animals and human.

4. What are the effects of FIR rays?

FIR can resonate with water molecules. It can ionize and activate water molecules within the body and blood, and increase blood flow up to a healthy level. The human body contains more than 70% water, which makes FIR beneficial to the body.

5. What are the effects of FIR on the human body?

- Activates water molecules in the human body
- Increases oxygen in the body
- Increases body temperature and removes fat, chemicals and toxins in the blood and improves blood circulation
- Reduces amount of metabolic waste in the body
- Improves the body's health and freshness
- Improves nervous system
- Increases the body's sweat production
- Alleviates pain
- Expedites cell renewal
- Maintains body temperature and aids fitful sleep

6. Are there evidence to show the effectiveness of this product?

Scholars have academically researched the effectiveness of this product and many users of this product have proven the effectiveness of the product. There are also many testimonies from users who attest to the effectiveness of the product.

7. Are there any limitations to the length of time in using this product?

There are no time limitations in the use of this product. FIR is needed every day from our birth until old age and FIR will not fade from Bio ceramic.

8. What are the side effects of using this product?

There are no side effects from the use of this product, however there are evidence of what we call healing crisis.

9. What is a healing crisis?

Healing crisis happens when the body is in the process of expelling toxins. This process can be followed by pain or discomfort. In several cases users are advised to continue using the product. For cases which results in serious pain, temporarily discontinue using the product and start using it again once the symptoms have disappeared.

10. Are there any possibilities that we may not feel any difference after using this product?

In fact, the effects experienced by users of the Bio product vary depending on the individual's health. If we do not feel anything after using this product, it is possible that our body is in better health compared to others. In many cases, long term use of this product will be beneficial and acts as a preventive measure.

11. How long does it take before we feel the effects?

The duration necessary to experience the effects depends on each individual's body. Our experience has shown that results can be experienced within a short period of time.
